Selling Furniture

Dear Robin,

Thanks for writing to me again. I’m now working in a different place. I have a job in a furniture store. I help people decide what they buy. The hours are great. I work from noon until 7:00PM. The only bad thing is that I have to work on weekends. That’s when most people shop for furniture.

I started out in the bedroom section. That was pretty boring. All beds look pretty much the same. People sat on the beds and lay on the beds. It took them a long time to decide what they wanted. I just stood around and watched. Now I’m in the living room department. That’s a lot more interesting. People have to decide on colors and they ask a lot of questions about how things are made. They also want to know about exchanging furniture if they don’t like it. We will take it back for seven days. After that, it’s yours forever!

Right now I’m a salesperson, but I’d like to be a sales manager someday. I might go back to school and take a class on how to sell things. That would help me in any job I get.

Be well. Please write again soon.
